> AT the last meeting of the Executive Council of the Imperial Institute, 125 candidates for Fellowship were elected, making a total of 8.355. Modern Society, perhaps the most widely circulated and extensively read of all the English weeklies, deals with the Institute and its Fellows in this wise, the Prince of Wales' 4 Folly being its favorite description of the Imperial building containing the colonial collection of exhibits: With respect to the Prince of Wales" "Folly," everything is done on Gilbertian, or topsy-turvy principles. For instance, the British public are let in either free or on payment of a shilling, but the fil.nds of Fellows, who elsewhere: would be latile fracchave to pay 48d. Wherever Fellows of the Imperial Institute go, tickets have to be produced, names have to be written, and books to be signed, for no earthly reason unleast is in the hope of coercing them into becoming life members, who are allowed to wear a badge, which saves them all trouble. Not that they are presented with the badge. Oh, no. They have the privilege of buying it in addition to paying their life subscription. And the cry is | you. still "They do not come." Moreover, as the Imperial Institute is expressly intended to endourage Imperial trade, the staircases are of Italian mossic, laid down by Italian workmen; the sugar, the waiter, the prices, and the quality of the refreshments are all German ; the glass used for illuminations comes from Bohemis, the marbles used in decoration of the big halls come from various foreign countries, and an immense amount of the timbers used in the construction is from Norwegian forests. It is also a curlous coincidence that the organizing secretary, that very lively person Sir Frederick Abel, is by origin a German. However, the barmaids are thoroughly English ; so is the insolence of the officials and so, likewise, is the confusion which into the Prays Reclamation or somewhere reigra everywhere. In addition to this sen Then you will do. excellent apportunity of seeing the British snob, and more especially the female of that genus, in his or her element, has been open to the curious on what are facetfously known as " Vellows' Days" at the Imperial Institute, when the female, relations, bangers,on, servants, washer-women, togdies, constituents, and other parasites of Fallows swarmed in to see the Royal wedding presents, and make remarks of the most ludicrously inappropriate character. A walk down Bond Street or Regent Street would have shown them much the same things without any of the inconvenience,

WANTON DESTRUCTION OF OPIUM BY THE GOVERNMENT.

One of the most extraordinary burisls that has ever been witnessed in this land of strange sights and still stranger customs, manners and policy, took place, with considerable pomp and ceremony, in the harbour yesterday evening, It was not a human being that was consigned to the briny deep, nor was, it a mermaid or anything half so interesting; it was the illeless, sodden remains of an oplum seizure in which Mr. J. J. Spooner, chief excise officer, figured considerably ubout five months sgn, he personally seising it on board the followed, but the Government held on to it until propriate its sale to the t plum Farmer, who offered $100, which the local authorities thought possess prepared optum in the colony, and has again consulted with MM. Perlet, Develle, thinks the general prope is could not have been large from the Deviceps to the new Office Ordinance (No. 21 of shore in boats, and was found in presention of | 1501), he doals with as the Governor-la-Council two boat-loads of wet sugar which he said was sees fit. After taking five months to make "leakage," and claimed as his perquisite. That up his mind Governor Robinson apparently decided that the oplum should be decently "buried at sea," rather than handed over to the Farmer. Accordingly yesterday afternoon, Mr. Baddeley, acting Deputy Superintendent of Pol ce, escorted by Sergeant Niven and a squad of lutongs, carried the 600 tacks of oplum down to a police launch lying at Victoria Wharf and after steaming out a good way on the placid waters of the barbour, threw the oplum overboard, after backing the time, in which the drug was contained, to pieces, so as to make sure it would be totally destroyed. Whether or not the burial service was read over the remains we know not, but that's of little consequence sayhow. The point is that wanton destruction of this description is unjustified and should be safeguarded against in the future. How about the offence of "dumping " in the harbour?

The tug Mercury, which went out yesterday stranded steamer's mails and passengers. The Bangkok went out later, with six lighters in tow, to lighten the versel. The Mercury returned again to the Godavery this morning, and the two bosts were to make an attempt to tow her off this morning, it being high tide at o o'clock.

It is believed the Godavery has not sustained any damage, but as about seventy feet of her hall is on the bank, and her stern is in 8 fathoms of water, it is impossible yet to tell. She is reported to be making no water, and may steam in to Singapore at any time this after-

JACK KNOWLES' FORTY FRIENDS.

A friend in need is a friend indeed, says the old saw. Quite so. Fair weather friends are plentiful enough, goodness knows; the kind that drop in on you, talk to you, bother you, and borrow things from you , the kind that never bring back that flee shillings, but ask for fire more "just to make it ten," that breed of friends, I say, are as thick as flies over a sugar bowl. But the sort who stick by you when you are down on your luck, who put their shoulders seginst your cart wheels at a nesty spot in the road—why, you want to hunt for them with speciacles and a lantern. Yet, after all, such friends do exist, and forty of fhom turned up, without any hunting, when Mr. Knowles needed them hadly. How it happened

I. Jonathan Knowles, of Lotton Fen; near Ramssy, Hunts, do solemnly and sincerely declare as follows: -I was always a strong healthy man up to April 1889, when I began to feel ill. At first I felt dull low-spirited and had no energy. I had a poor A small scandal has arisen in English church | appetite and for days and days could est nothing. What I did out lay like lead on my chest. I had a gnawing, sinking feeling at the pit of the stomach, and was constantly sick, vomiting up a green fuld. At times the heaving and straining was so great that blood came up. My hands and feet were always cold, and clammy awents used to break out all over me. never felt warm even when I sat before the fire. Next a hacking dry cough, with severe pains at my chest and lungs, began to trouble me, and my breathing became short and hurried. I soon got so weak that I had to give up my work, for I could only walk a few yards without stopping to take my breath. The cough and shortness of breath got gradually worse and wome, and I began to lose flesh rapidly. At first a dector from Ramsey came to see me, he gave me medicines and cod liver oil, but held out no hope of my getting better, after attending me three months he recommended me to go to the hospital. I got a recommendation from my master, Mr. David Corney, Wellington . House, St. Mary's, and went to the Peterborough Infirmary. I had to be taken in a trap to the railway station, such was my weak state. The doctors at the Infirmary had me stripped and sounded my lungs, and said one of my lungs was almost gone, and that I was in a consumption. They gave me medicines, also cod liver oil, but nothing did me any good. After being under their oars and treatment for three months I was discharged as incurable. My wife and relations now lost all hope of my ever getting well again, and everyone who saw me looked upon me as being in a decline. My cheeks had sunk and I had wasted away until I was only a shadow of my former self, you could even see the sinews through my flesh. I was nothing but skin and bone, having lost three stone in weight I got up every day but dancing at a bill. She has sued her partner for move a few yards and that with the aid of a stick. I this half-dead, half-alive state I continued for nearly two years and was looked upon as doomed. During the latter part my wife did not think I should live from one week to another, and friends who came to see me used to say, "Poor Jack will never come out The Turkish cavalry is generally admitted to easy to accomplish an almost Dromio-like alive again." In December, 1890, when I was at my money for more of the Syrup. So strongly were my friends convinced that the medicine would do me good that a subscription was started and over 40 people subscribed to enable me to get a further supply. Mrs. King get the Syrup from Mr. J. Freeman, Chemist, Ramsey, and kept me supplied with it. After I had taken three bottles of the Syrup I felt benefit. I kept on with the medicine and gradually got stronger and stronger, and got back to my work. Of course I can now do any kind of work, and feel so strong that I often walk 14 miles a day, for which I than God and Mother Seigel's Syrup. Everyone in the district is astonished at my recovery. I tell them : that Seigel's Syrup has brought me back to life. wish others to know of what has done so much for me, and I give permission to the Proprietors of the medicing to make what use they think fit of this statement; and I make this solemn declaration conscientionaly believing the same to be true. By virtue of the Statutory Declaration Act, 1835 (Will. IV., c. 62). Subscribed and declared at Peterboro', in the County of Northampton, this 29th day (Signed) L. J. Denoon, A Commissioner to administer Oaths in the Supreme Court of Judicaiure in England. You take notice of course that Mr. Knowles makes solemn legal declaration to the truth of his remarkable story. It is so full of suggestive facts that I could write a book about it. But there is no time nor room now to do that. The points to remember are these .- If the doctors thought " Poor Jack" had consumption they were mistaken. The fact that got well shows he had no consumption. A man who can now walk 14 miles a day has got two good lungs. Doctors have no business to make such binnders and scere patients out of all courage and hope. But there I Ignorance is Ignorance, no matter where you run across it. What ailed Mr. Knowles was indigestion and dyspensis-nothing else. The cough and loss of feeh were symptoms of that, not of the destruction of lung substance. Next, keep bearing in mind that all our common maladies signify that our machinery for digesting food is out of order. It is so when it doesn't look so, the same as when it does.

That is the secret of the success of Mother Ssigni's Syrup. It cleanses the cistern and the pipes, and then the water of life runs clear and sweet. Those 40 sensible friends believed in that.

Mr. J. Knowles is a very respectable hardworking man. He is a farm labourer and has a small allotment of land which he pultivates. The persons who subscribed to get him the Syrup are principally farm labourers and farmers realding in the district of Ramsey. The case is well known to all the people round about where Knowles lives. Mrs. Knowles, in speaking of her husband's long illness, stated that she payer for one moment expected his recovery. She pould see him gradually dwindling away, and harself and phildren pould not take their meets for tears when they saw the dreadful condition Mr. Knowles was in, for they expected losing him every week, - Adve,
